Christopher C. Martin, FAIA
Chairman and CEO, AC Martin
CEO and President, Martin Project Management

Christopher C. Martin is the Chairman and CEO of AC Martin, the nation’s oldest family-owned architecture, planning, interior architecture and research firm. Chris and four generations of the Martin family have designed and engineered many of the most iconic buildings in downtown Los Angeles, including:

- City Hall
- Department of Water and Power Building
- City National Plaza
- 444 South Flower Street
- 333 South Hope Street
- Bank of America Plaza
- 601 South Figueroa Street
- Wilshire Grand / Intercontinental Hotel

As a civic leader, Chris has devoted a significant portion of his time to critical issues facing the City and County of Los Angeles, as well as the State of California. Martin Project Management (MPM), for which Chris serves as CEO, recently completed the Wilshire Grand Redevelopment Project as Owner’s Development Manager. Chris is resurrecting the role of Master Architect that Albert C. Martin Jr. and J. Edward J. Martin played in the creation of the modern downtown skyline.

Chris received his Bachelor of Architecture from the University of Southern California and is a Fellow in the American Institute of Architects. He is a current board member of the Los Angeles Area Chamber of Commerce; current board member of the Los Angeles Central City Association; current board member and Chair of the Los Angeles County Economic Development Corporation; and a founding Board Member of the Los Angeles Business Federation. As part of Chris’ commitment to the community, he serves on the Board of Directors of Children’s Hospital Los Angeles as well as on the Dean’s Advisory Council for the School of Architecture at the University of Southern California. Chris and AC Martin annually host the sold-out Architecture Merit Badge Day for Scouts from the Greater Los Angeles Area Council.

Chris Martin and his two sons, Patrick and Jeff, were Scouts, and his grandsons are Cub Scouts in Pack 368 in San Marino. Chris enjoyed working on the Pinewood derby cars with his sons and has continued the tradition with his grandchildren. Chris, his wife Jeanette, daughter Colleen and two sons fully embraced spending numerous hours building their log cabin in the mountains, race cars, jeeps and airplane. The Martin family is now in its fourth generation of builders and designers. They love taking things apart and improving on the design to make them better. Chris says, “We are Boy Scouts at heart – always trying to make things around us better.”

EAGLE SCOUT SERVICE PROJECT

What is an Eagle Scout Service Project?

The Eagle Scout Service Project is the opportunity for a Boy Scout, Varsity Scout, or qualified Venturer, at the Life rank in the Boy Scouts of America, to demonstrate leadership skills by performing a project of benefit to his community. Completing an Eagle Project is the culmination of the Scout’s leadership training and it requires a significant effort on his part. The project must benefit an organization other than the BSA and it cannot be performed for an individual or a business or be commercial in nature. Completion of an Eagle Project is a requirement for a Boy Scout to attain the Eagle Scout rank.

Alexander Brey is the 2017 GLAAC Adams National Eagle Scout Service Project of the Year Award winner. His Eagle Scout Project was selected by the Greater Los Angeles Area Council as the best example of what an Eagle Scout Service Project should exemplify, and how it was planned and executed. Alexander’s Eagle Project was the installation of seven bear-proof storage lockers at the "Little Jimmy" remote backpacker camping area in the Angeles National Forest San Gabriel Mountains National Monument, a very popular backpacking destination for many GLAAC Troops and Crews.

Within the Greater Los Angeles Area Council, each Eagle Project averages 200 hours. The cost to execute each project on average is $2500 in goods, either purchased by the Scout from his own fundraising efforts or from donated materials from generous local vendors.

We are proud to share that the total value provided to our communities from the service hours of 2017 Eagle Scout Service Projects is over $1,225,000. Likewise, the total cost of the projects donated to our communities totals over $1,395,000. The overall value to communities in the Greater Los Angeles Area Council exceeds $2,620,000.

On the following pages are listed all organizations that benefited from Eagle Scout Service Projects in 2017.
Payden & Rygel is one of the largest independently owned global investment management firms. Your imprint and achievements are clearly visible in the skyline of downtown as you carried the legacy of the Martin family.

You are known as a wise, intelligent civic leader that contributed to the development of major tall building planning and city regulations for fire safety.

But above all, you are a friend and father figure to many.

Your faith and humility are embedded in your success, and I have been blessed to have you as a friend for the last three decades.

GREATER LOS ANGELES AREA COUNCIL | BSA | 43
The Second Century Society was created in 2010, after the 100th anniversary of Scouting. It recognizes outright and deferred gifts to BSA entities, such as local councils, high adventure bases, World Scouting, the Order of the Arrow, and the Foundation. Second Century Society donors are recognized for gifts starting at $25,000. The BSA is also proud to recognize our Lifetime Investors. These are donors whose cumulative gifts to Scouting—locally or nationally—exceed a minimum of $500,000, and often much more. The long-term support and vision of these individuals, corporations and foundations form the cornerstone for growth in the Boy Scouts of America, and for service to the youth of our nation.
