GREATER LOS ANGELES AREA COUNCIL
BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

2018 GOOD CHARACTER GALA

HONORING

REVEREND CECIL L. MURRAY
REVEREND MARK E. WHITLOCK, JR.

MILLENIUM BILTMORE HOTEL
THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 2018
LOS ANGELES, CA
Dear Friends,

Tonight, we celebrate the 2018 Good Character Gala of the Greater Los Angeles Area Council, Boy Scouts of America (GLAAC). It is our honor to recognize two of our community’s most iconic leaders, Reverend Cecil Murray and Reverend Mark Whitlock. Both of our honorees truly exemplify the qualities prescribed in the Scout Oath and Law—including “A Scout is Reverent.”

Reverend Cecil Murray is the Chairman of the USC Cecil Murray Center and retired Pastor of the First African Methodist Episcopal Church in Los Angeles, California. Reverend Mark Whitlock currently serves as the Executive Director of the USC Cecil Murray Center and is the Pastor of the Christ Our Redeemer A.M.E. Church in Irvine, California.

The GLAAC serves one of the largest and most diverse populations in America. Our youth come from a wide range of ethnic, cultural and socio-economic backgrounds. Many of our youth live at or below the poverty line. The proceeds from this evening’s Gala will enable us to sustain and create opportunities for all youth and their families to join Scouting’s character-building program.

On behalf of the Board of the Greater Los Angeles Area Council, the Dinner Committee, and our 37,000 Scouts and 10,000 volunteers, we salute our honorees for their contributions to our community. We also gratefully acknowledged our generous sponsors for their support of Scouting and our honorees.

Together, we are helping to build a stronger community and prepare our youth to become the leaders of tomorrow.

Yours in Scouting,

Jeff Hunt

MISSION STATEMENT
The mission of the Boy Scouts of America is to prepare young people to make ethical and moral choices over their lifetimes by instilling in them the values of the Scout Oath and Law.

SCOUT OATH
On my honor, I will do my best, to do my duty to God and my country and to obey the Scout Law; to help other people at all times; to keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight.

SCOUT LAW
A Scout is Trustworthy, Loyal, Helpful, Friendly, Courteous, Kind, Obedient, Cheerful, Thrifty, Brave, Clean, and Reverent.

Rev. Cecil L. Murray and his brother, Edward, belonged to Troop 20, Boy Scouts of America, hosted by Payne Chapel African Methodist Episcopal Church, West Palm Beach, Florida. Scouting was the seed of their growing. Their Scoutmaster, Josh Bacon, a member of the church, embraced his Scouts with the love of a devoted father and formed a pathway for them to follow the Scout Law.

Their troop held bicycle tours where they rode 15 miles North of West Palm Beach to a camp bordering a lake. These overnight stays developed their skills in building fires for cooking, setting up tents for overnight sleeping, and learning to swim and dive by leaping from a log bridge over the water. They also participated in singing and speechmaking as they sat around the campfire. The seasoned Scouts were mentors to the younger Scouts, instilling in them the gift of leadership.

All of the youth were encouraged to advance to the highest rank of Eagle Scout. Beyond this point of achievement were three levels of super achievement. All of the youth were encouraged to advance to the highest rank of Eagle Scout. Beyond this point of achievement were three levels of super achievement.

Reverend Murray met his high school sweetheart, Bernadine Cousins, when her family moved to West Palm Beach and she attended Industrial High School as a 10th grader. They married in 1958, seven years after Bernadine graduated from college with double degrees in sociology and education. They had one son, Reverend Drew David Murray, who followed in his father’s footsteps.

Following graduation from Florida A & M University, Cecil L. “Chip” Murray spent 10 years on duty in the United States Air Force as a radar intercept officer in a two-seated jet fighter in the Air Defense Command and as a navigator in the Military Air Transport Service. Transitioning to the reserves as captain, he obtained his Doctorate of Religion from the School of Theology at Claremont.

During a half century of ministry, Rev. Murray moved from Pomona, California to Kansas City, to Seattle, to 27 years of service at the oldest black church in Los Angeles, First African Methodist Episcopal Church, known as FAME, and coming to focus as a gathering point in the civil unrest of 1992.

Upon retirement in 2004, Rev. Murray joined the faculty of the University of Southern California, where he holds the Tansey Chair of Christian Ethics at the Center for Religion and Civic Culture. He’s held board membership with the California African American Museum, the Ray Charles Foundation, the Los Angeles Homeless Services Commission, the Los Angeles Children’s Commission, School on Wheels for homeless children, and Opportunities for Learning Charter School. He served on the Los Angeles County Citizens’ Commission on Jail Violence and currently serves on the Board of Trustees of the Keck School of Medicine.

Rev. Mark E. Whitlock, Jr. is committed to serving God, the African Methodist Episcopal Church (AME Church) and the community. He has served as pastor of Christ Our Redeemer AME Church (COR Church) in Irvine, CA since August 1998. COR Church has grown from five members to 3700 members. The Church has over forty different ministries and a staff of thirty people. Rev. Whitlock is the founder and CEO of COR CDC, the non-profit arm of COR Church, which owns eleven apartments and operates a sports camp program, small business loan fund, youth entrepreneurial training program, banking on your success training program, and youth summer enrichment math program. COR CDC has given multiple college scholarships to minority college students living in Orange County, hosted the National Faith Leadership Conference, created the Innovators Impact Fund, and trained young people on entrepreneurship.

Rev. Whitlock has served as the Executive Director of the Reverend Cecil L. Murray Center for Community Engagement at the University of Southern California for nine years. He raises funds, trains pastors, and administers staff and projects. The Reverend Cecil L. Murray Center has educated over two thousand pastors, executive directors of community development corporations, and non-profit board members on community development, civic engagement, and financial literacy.

Rev. Whitlock earned a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Religion from the University of La Verne. He has a Masters in Science in Social Entrepreneurship from the University of Southern California and is completing a Masters of Divinity degree at Payne Theological Seminary. He received an honorary doctorate degree in humanities from American International University.

In 1983, Rev. Whitlock began a part-time career in radio while working full time for Wells Fargo Bank. He was a radio talk show host on KGJ, KACE, KFI and is currently heard every Sunday morning on KJHL Radio.

Rev. Whitlock left his corporate career to serve the people of Los Angeles following the Rodney King riots. He is the founder and was the executive director of FAME Renaissance aka FAME Assistance Corporation, the economic development arm of First AME Church, from 1992-2004. Under Rev. Whitlock’s leadership, the FAME Renaissance Venture Capital Fund, Micro Loan Fund and Commercial Loan Programs funded over one hundred small businesses. The FAME Renaissance Home Loan Program created over two hundred new home owners and trained over two thousand home loan candidates.

Rev. Whitlock is a volunteer with the Ecumenical Center for Black Church Studies at the University of LaVerne. He is Trustee of Paul Quinn College, serves on the community advisory board for East West Bank, and is a member of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity Inc.

Rev. Whitlock has been featured on CNN, Cross Fire, NBC, CBS, ABC, Fox News, KJHL Radio, and Charter Cable. He has been interviewed by the Wall Street Journal, Los Angeles Times, Orange County Register, Black Enterprise Magazine, and Sentinel News, as well as several local magazines and newspapers.

He has lectured at Harvard University, University of California Los Angeles Anderson School of Business, Interdenominational Theological Center, Payne Seminary, Yale University, California State University Los Angeles, Concordia University, and many high schools and churches. Rev. Whitlock has been a featured speaker at the White House’s Faith-Based Conferences. He is a recipient of numerous national, state, city, and local community service awards.

Rev. Whitlock grew up in St. Louis, where he became an Eagle Scout. Rev. Whitlock has been married happily to Rev. Hermia Shegog Whitlock for over 33 years. He has three sons, Ariel, Mark, III and Devin.

PAT HARVEY

Pat Harvey is anchor of CBS2’s 5, 6 and 11 pm broadcasts. She joined CBS2 after 20 years with sister station KCAL9 as one of the original anchors of the nation’s first nightly three-hour newscast.

Pat was awarded the prestigious LA Area Governor’s Award from the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences in 2015 for her body of work at CBS2/KCAL9 and her philanthropic work in the community. In 2012, Harvey was inducted into the National Association of Black Journalists Hall of Fame at the Newseum in Washington, D.C.

For her broadcast work, Pat has won 22 Emmy Awards, including three for Best Newscast, the most recent presented in 2018, for Outstanding Feature Reporter.

Pat is the recipient of two lifetime achievement awards, the L.A. Press Club’s Joseph M. Quinn Award in 2004 and the Golden Mike for Lifetime Achievement Award from the Radio & Television News Association in 2010.

In 2008, Pat received the Genii Award for excellence in TV broadcasting from Southern California’s chapter of American Women in Radio and Television. Other awards include a national Emmy, Golden Mikes, Society of Professional Journalists, LA Press Club, Hollywood Women’s Press Club Award for Ethics, Chicago, Los Angeles and National Association of Black Journalists Associated Press “best news anchor” award and the Edward R. Murrow Award presented to KCAL news for overall excellence.

Pat has dedicated her career to community service, advocating for children, education, those in the special-needs community and victims of domestic violence. She is the recipient of two honorary doctoral degrees from American Intercontinental University and Mt. St. Mary’s University. In 2017, Pat received The Lillian Harvey was inducted into the National Association of Black Journalists Hall of Fame at the Newseum in Washington, D.C.

In 2017, Pat received The Lillian Award for excellence in broadcasting from the national Delta Sigma Theta organization and was the recipient of the Bonnie Tiegel Angel Award from the YWCA of Greater Los Angeles. In 2015, Pat was named a Susan G. Komen Circle of Promise Ambassador to help in the fight against breast cancer. She has also received the Silver Star Award from the YMCA, and the NAACP’s Ida B. Wells Award. Pat was also one of several local personalities to carry the Olympic torch through Los Angeles in 2002.

Pat was a co-founder and co-chairwoman of the Good News Foundation. The nonprofit, built by five TV newswomen, awarded grants and scholarships to area community-based organizations, established computer centers, partnered with the Home Depot Foundation to build a playground for inner city youth, and built a library for the Downtown Women’s Center, among many other accomplishments. Aspiring journalists were also given scholarships based on merit and commitment to community service. During her tenure, the group received honors from the American Women in Radio & Television, Downtown Women’s Center, Central City Business Association of LA and the LAPD Hollenbeck PAL Humanitarian Award.

ANDY BARTH

Andrew F. Barth “Andy” is an Investor/Philanthropist, a former chairman of Capital Guardian Trust Company, and a director of Capital Group International, Inc.

Andy graduated summa cum laude from Columbia College (Phi Beta Kappa) in 1983. He received a Merit Fellowship to attend Columbia Business School. He competed for four years on the wrestling team at Columbia, being part of three Ivy League Championship teams and named an All-Ivy Wrestler. He competed for the New York Athletic Club while earning his MBA from Columbia Business School, achieving state, regional and international honors in Greco-Roman wrestling.

Andy was twice elected to the Board of Governors of the San Marino Unified School District, serving 1997 through 2005, three years as president. He is proud of the effort to put in place the foundation that earned San Marino the highest academic performance index ranking of all unified school districts in the State of California.

Growing up in New York, Andy was an active Scout for ten years. He is particularly proud of earning the rank of Eagle as a Boy Scout from Troop 527 in New York City. Andy was thrilled to become involved in Scouting again with his son, Andrew Jr., who earned his Eagle Scout Rank with Troop 355 in San Marino. In 2007, Andy received the Jimmy Stewart “Good Turn” Award from the San Gabriel Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America. The award is presented to a prominent citizen in the business community who exhibits the principles upon which Scouting is based in his or her personal life.

Andy received USA Wrestling’s Man of the Year award for 2014, the John Jay Award from Columbia University in 2011, the International Medical Corporation Global Humanitarian Award in 2011, the Career Transitions for Dancers Outstanding Contributions to Dance Award in 2010, the After School All Stars Enlightenment Award in 2011, the International Medical Corporation Global Humanitarian Award in 2011, the Career Transitions for Dancers Outstanding Contributions to Dance Award in 2010, the After School All Stars Enlightenment Award in 2011, the Golden Apple Award from the San Gabriel Valley Council of Academic Administrators in 2006.

Andy has continued his dedication to wrestling, being named the Team Leader for the United States Men’s Freestyle Wrestling Team for the 2016 Olympics in Rio de Janeiro, and inducted into the Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling Association Hall of Fame in 2013 and the National Wrestling Hall of Fame in 2012 as an Outstanding American.

Other civic duties include serving, or having served, on the Board of Trustees for the American Ballet Theater, the Board of Trustees of Huntington Library, Art Collections, Museum and Gardens, the American Friends of the Louvre, the Center for the Study of the Presidency and Congress, the California Science Center Foundation, Pomona College, the US Olympic and Paralympic Foundation, and the Board of Overseers for the Columbia Business School.

Andy currently lives in San Marino, California with his wife of 28 years, Avery. They have four wonderful children, Emily, Catherine, Andrew Jr., and Avery Vivian.

EVERY YOUTH, IN EVERY NEIGHBORHOOD.

“Shelley and I believe that all youth should have access to the leadership training and character building programs that Scouting offers. That is why our family invested in the Council’s Scoutreach initiative to increase Scouting’s presence in underserved, disadvantaged communities. Through our philanthropic gift, more Scouts will be raised with the values and principles of the Scout Oath and Scout Law.”

Bob Kohorst & Shelley Allen
Kohorst Allen Family Foundation

Through a second three-year pledge to Scoutreach, the Kohorst family is planting seeds for new Scouting programs in underserved, disadvantaged communities. Their investment is the catalyst for Scouting’s expansion in the San Gabriel Valley, enabling the Council to forge strong community partnerships, establish new units, and provide critical support to ensure youth are engaged and receive a quality Scouting experience.

Thank you, Bob and Shelley for your generous commitment to Scouting!

SCOUTREACH:
Breaking down barriers to serve more youth.

The Greater Los Angeles Area Council, BSA builds upon the strengths of youth in underserved markets and increases positive youth development by reducing barriers to participation. Our Scoutreach initiative is a family-based program that ensures all youth, regardless of backgrounds and socio-economic status, have a high-quality Scouting experience. Support may include uniforms, registration, program materials, program and summer camp fees, transportation, program mentorship and adult leadership.

Scoutreach is more than placing a program in a community.

It is planting roots within communities, creating vested leaders interested in positive youth development.

These Scouts have climbed their own summits.
Alfredo hiked 22 miles his first day of camp in borrowed boots.
Aldair reached the top of the climbing wall on his first try.
Daniel took the shirt of his back to stop the bleeding when another troop’s soccer player took a shot on nose.

Think about the courage it takes to jump off a pier in an ocean swim test when you don’t know how to swim. Some of our guys and now gals are among the first in their family to go to college.

What happens with the money you contribute to urban Scouting?
It helps youth go to camp, learn to swim, fish, ice skate, and ride a horse. They do service projects, go to Law and Architecture Merit Badge Days and learn life-saving skills. Without Scouts they might take a darker course and be recruited by one of the many gangs that prowl their streets.

With your support, inner-city Scouts can hone the arduous tasks required for professional and civic development, avoiding the dangerous and treacherous path so easily available to them. All Scouts are equal in uniform, but we know all things are not equal at the starting gate.

Your investment into urban Scouting offers youth a well-deserved and essential boost up. These boys are Eagle worthy and should be given the opportunity to soar as surely as our own children. They have the talent and the will. Please help them reach their potential.”

Dr. Kendra Gorlitsky, a physician and assistant professor at the Keck School of Medicine of USC and volunteer Scoutmaster for Troop 2131 in Echo Park since 2006.
Your Scouting Legacy

Thank you for joining us in our mission to build tomorrow’s leaders today.

Thanks to the generous support of our alumni, volunteers and donors, Scouts today enjoy outstanding high-adventure experiences embedded in the values and principles of the Scout Oath and Law. Because of you, our youth develop strong leadership and character that positively transforms our communities. As you explore various ways to create your legacy in Scouting, we look forward to assisting you. Your thoughtful planning will ensure the Boy Scouts of America continues to have a lasting impact in the Greater Los Angeles Area.

BRUCE DAVIS

Bruce Davis is an Eagle Scout and dedicated lifetime Scouter. His kind, sincere and generous nature embodies the Scouting Spirit. His unwavering dedication and service leadership to the Boy Scouts of America has had a profound impact on the organization and program, as well as thousands of Scouts he has mentored.

As a youth, Bruce received his Arrow of Light, God and Country, and Order of the Arrow. As an adult, he served as a Cubmaster for Pack 361, Assistant Scoutmaster and Scoutmaster for Troop 351, and World and National Jamboree Scoutmaster. In addition, Bruce volunteered in multiple leadership roles at the District, Council, Area, Region and National levels, including his current role as an active executive committee board member for the Greater Los Angeles Area Council (and previously the San Gabriel Valley Council) and an executive board member for the Western Region. He has volunteered at every National and World Scout Jamboree since 1989.

Bruce’s high adventure Scouting highlights as a youth and adult include backpacking, canoeing, cycling, riding over 200 miles, and camping over 200 nights. Overnight trips include backpacking on cross country ski trips over 50 miles on the Colorado River, two-week-long trips to the Havasupai Indian Reservation at the bottom of the Grand Canyon, desert rock climbing, and camping at 19 Boy Scout of America operated facilities.

Bruce and his wife, Judy, are generous supporters and advocates of Scouting. In addition to their personal giving to local and international initiatives (over $3 million in outright and deferred gifts), Bruce is widely recognized for promoting philanthropy to support strong Scouting programs. In recognition of his service, he received the Western Region McLaughlin Award, Regal Circle Baden Powell Fellowship, Silver Beaver, Silver Antepole, and the Second Century Society Lifetime Investor Awards, among numerous others.

Bruce is an ordained elder with the Presbyterian Church. He and his wife are entrepreneurs and have run their family industrial sales business since 1961. They have 2 Eagle Scout sons, Nick and Matt, who are also entrepreneurs. Bruce and Judy both love antiques, including their 1862 home in San Gabriel.

“You can’t take it with you, but you sure can tell where you want it to go.”
